The deliberations of the Convention were then opened with prayer, by Rev. JAMES CUMMINGS, of Sevier, as follows:

PRAYER.

Almighty God! our great Creator, our kind preserver, and our gracious Redeemer, we have assembled here, at the request of our fellow-citizens, as thou knowest, in order that by exchanging our views, respecting the evils which have been brought upon our country by those who are endeavoring to destroy our government, under which we, as a nation, have so wonderfully prospered. But being aware of our short-sightedness, and inability to err, we would humbly and earnestly implore the enlightenings of Thy Holy Spirit, that we may be able to accomplish the object for which we were chosen, in the best possible manner. And Oh, Divine Sovereign of the Universe, we pray Thee to defeat those who are endeavoring to break up our inestimable government, and sustain and relieve those who are now deprived of their Constitutional privileges. We have to acknowledge that, as a nation, we have not appreciated our civil and religious privileges, but have abused Thy goodness. But we would meekly implore Thee, our Heavenly Father, to pardon our national sins, ally the fierce and hostile excitement that prevails in many sections of our country, suppress the further shedding of blood in civil war. Grant, we beseech Thee, O Lord, that we may again become a united people, secured in the enjoyment of our former inestimable civil and religious privileges, and to Thy great and glorious name, Father, Son and Holy Ghost, we will ascribe present and everlasting praises. Amen.

On motion of Mr. Maxwell, of Washington, the members of the Business Committee, appointed at the Knoxville session of this Convention, were retained upon said Committee, so far as they are now in attendance, and, upon the same motion, it was ordered that the President by appointment supply any vacancies that may appear upon said committee.

Mr. Kyle, of Hawkins, asked that Hon. Jno. Netherland be substituted in his place on the Committee.

Mr. Logan, of Washington, asked that J. W. Deaderick be substituted for him.

The Committee thus constituted, stands as follows:

C. F. Trigg, of Knox, A. T. Smith, of Johnson, W. B. Carter, of Carter, J. W. Deaderick, of Washington, Jas. P. McDowell, of Greene, R. L. Stanford, of Sullivan, John Netherland, of Hawkins, Jaa. P. Swann, of Jefferson, Samuel Pickens, of Sevier, Charles L. Barton, of Hancock, W. T. Dowell, of Blount,

Wm. Heiskell, of Monroe, W. B. Staley, of Roane, D. C. Trehitt, of Hamilton, R. M. Edwards, of Bradley, J. Stonecipher, of Morgan, L. C. Houk, of Anderson, W. G. Brownlow, of Marion, (alternate), J. A. Cooper, of Campbell, G. W. Bridges, of McMinn, T. J. Matthews, of Meigs, R. K. Byrd, of Cumberland, (alternate), Wm. M. Biggs, of Polk, J. G. Spears, of Bledsoe, E. E. Jones, of Claiborne, Isaac Bayless, of Union, H. G. Lea, of Grainger, P. Easterly, of Cocke, S. C. Honeycutt, of Scott, (alternate), E. S. Langley, of Fentress, (alternate).

On motion, Messrs. R. Johnson, Britton, Rankin, McDowell, and Vance, of Greene, were appointed as a Committee to provide for the convenience and comfort of the Convention during its session.

And then, on motion of Fleming, of Knox, the Convention adjourned till 8 o'clock to-night.

NIGHT SESSION.
